The tournament will take place as following:

- ✓ Preliminary round 1
- ✓ Preliminary round 2
- ✓ Night Final

1.2 PRELIMINARY ROUND 1 AND 2

- ✓ Preliminary round 1 will be held during the preliminary round of the French Nationals.

All skiers (French National and Open de France) will be mixed in series depending the ranking list results.

- ✓ Preliminary round 2 will be held during the final A & B of the French National.

The order of the skiers for preliminary round 2 will be the reverse of their scores in the round 1 but will be shared in 2 groups.

- 1- Skiers participating only to the “Open de France” tournament will be automatically put in “final B” group.
- 2- Skiers participating at both French National and Open de France will be either in final A or B group depending of their results and number of skier in French National final.

1.3 NIGHT FINAL

8 Skiers men and women can be qualified in final as long as minimum 4 French skiers are in final.

Whatever their rank after preliminaries rounds, the first 4 French skiers will be automatically qualified in final. The 4 remaining places will be taken from the best standing from preliminaries rounds.

The order of the skiers qualified for the final round will be the reverse of their scores in the preliminaries rounds.

The night final will start at night, around 9pm, therefore this final cannot be homologated in view of the expected lighting.

1.4 CASH PRICE

In case of a tie for the first place, there will be a runoff. In case of tie for other place, scores of the preliminaries round will be taken.
